

Hair and Make-up (Guardians Of The Galaxy)

Director: James Gunn

The makeup in this film is amazing, they use the make up to make actors look like aliens from different planets. The attention to detail needed can clearly be seen, this is good because it means that CGI doesn't have to be used to show off the characters, which both saves money, and makes the film better to look at. There are still characters such as Rocket Raccoon that cannot be pulled off by makeup, so they are entirely CGI.
