

Jersey Museum Takeover

Welcome to Jersey Museum & Art Gallery! We have invited to visit to view the current exhibition in the John De Veulle Gallery: Your Story, Our History: 125 Years Seen Through a Jersey Evening Post Lens. As part of National Take Over Day on 20 November 2105 Jersey Heritage is offering you, Hautlieu Photography Students, a fantastic opportunity to take over the gallery and create your own pop-up exhibition called: Our Story, Half Term: 125 hours seen through a teenager's lens. This project gives you the chance to shoot your story during Half-Term and exhibit your work in one of the most important galleries in Jersey. Exhibitions in this gallery are usually planned years in advance so don't miss this special opportunity!

Task for the Exhibition Visit

This task has two parts. First you need to view the exhibition and answer the questions listed below. Second, you need to present your answers in blog a post, including images, from this exhibition sourced from the online gallery. The website link is in Mr T's instructions on the Hautlieu Photography Blog.

1. Write down the first thought about the exhibition that enters your head when you walk in?

2. Look at all the images on the walls. Now find three images including your favourite image in the exhibition and one that you don't like and write short descriptions of them. You will need to find them online for your blog.

B.

C.

3. What is it that you like about your favourite image – be as specific as you can? What is the photographer trying to communicate?

4. What is wrong with your least favourite image? How could it be improved?

5. Do any of the photos in the exhibition show similar events or activities to what you will be doing in Half-Term? The subjects in the exhibition are varied, look at them and use what you see to write down an idea for photo story of your own? If you already have your own different idea, that's great, still write it down and think about how you will do it and when!

6. If you want your photos to be in this gallery in four weeks time they will have to stand out from the crowd. How can you make them do this? Special subject? Colour/Black & White? Planned or unplanned? Candid or posed? Day or Night? Telling a story about you or someone else? Write down your ideas?

Good luck, take over, you can do it!
